

Kingsbury Stone is one of London's leading firms of specialist new homes and development agents. We provide specialist agency, consultancy and management services to property owners, investors and developers throughout the UK, with a constant underlying objective: to add value.

The role will involve working within our Development Agency department, dealing with the acquisition and sale of properties for redevelopment, across London and the South-East.

DEVELOPMENT AGENT

Salary: £50,000 - £60,000 OTE (basic and commission)

There is an exciting opportunity to join our land team as a Development Agent.

The role will include:

- Actively identifying new land opportunities and keeping an accurate record of these.
- To create and maintain strong relationships with both existing and new clients.
- Winning new business and production of suitable sales pack and brochures.
- Dealing with enquiries and gathering and generating offers.
- To meet your KPI's and follow office processes.

What skills we are looking for:

- At least 12 months relevant experience within the market.
- Proactive and good attention to detail and accuracy.
- Good knowledge of Microsoft Office, Land Insight, Council Planning Portals and other software which can be utilised to identify potential opportunities.
- Excellent communication skills.

For more information, please contact:

Hannah Jeffery - 020 7183 2529

hannah.jeffery@kingsbury-consultants.co.uk